GOOD NEWS

What's New

GOOD NEWS

Besides several new kinds of fruits, roses and ornamentals, the best news to you is a reduction in prices, especially on fruit trees and roses, over last season. In addition, we prepay the transportation to the 4th P.P. Zone.

WE GIVE YOU QUALITY and LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES, PLUS CLOSE PERSONAL SUPERVISION OF YOUR ORDER BY THE PROPRIETOR—JUST AS THO YOU WERE DOING THE SHOPPING YOURSELF.

Fruit and Nut Trees and Grape and Berry Plants soon pay for themselves.

WHY WE HAVE ENDURED FOR 78 YEARS—the second oldest nursery in California—and only three owners in all that time: First, is the close personal attention we give each order. Second, is our location at 2600 feet in the Sierra Nevada Mountains. Our Northern grown stock and storage keeps trees and plants in perfect condition because it is cold here during the Fall and Winter. Hence our plants start and grow when set out. Trees stored in trenches at lower elevations are more or less active through December, January, February and March, so that they do not handle well. Ours are completely dormant during those months.

The nuts are enormous, averaging 2½ inches in length and the paper-thin shells cracking almost as easily as a peanut are completely filled with richly flavored kernels. Strong growing and bearing at a younger age than most Pecans; produces heavy crops. A magnificent fast-growing shade tree for the home with a bonus of large crops of very large nuts.

Burkett. Dependable Pecan for California, bearing heavy crops. Medium size, almost round, thin-shelled, the rich whole meat coming out very readily. Success or Halbert pollinate this variety.

Thornless Berries. The world does advance and here are six kinds of thornless (the canes are as smooth as a kitten's ear) and delicious berries that formerly bloodied your hands and tore your clothes. Listed opposite.

Sodus Purple Raspberry. Here is a berry that will astonish and delight you. A cross between a black and red raspberry it has a quality all its own, with lots of berries that cover a 25c piece. Priced opposite.

Blueberries

Experimenting has proved that climatic conditions on the West Coast are suited to the cultivation of this delicious fruit.

Soil Requirements: An acid soil, rich in leaf mold and with an abundance of moisture throughout the growing season. Work leaf mold and rotted sawdust or commercial peat into the ground.

While blueberries do well in partially shady locations, full sun is preferable, as the fruit ripens earlier, more evenly and the sugar content of the berries is higher. They thrive and fruit abundantly from sea level to an altitude of several thousand feet.

Ripen June until late August. Plant 2 or more varieties for heavy crops. Varieties:

Concord—Rancocas—Cabot—Rubel: 3-year bearing size with fruit-buds. 12-inch, $1.35 each; 4 for $5.25. 18-inch, $1.85; 4 for $7.15. POSTPAID.
